STUDENT MEDICAL PROFESSIONAL & GENERAL LIABILITY COVERAGE

In accordance with its indemnification policy, Michigan State University will support trustees, officers, faculty, and staff when acting in the performance of their assigned duties on behalf of the University. This policy also applies to students while engaged in approved academic programs where they are enrolled, are registered and have received College approval. This would include a) activities that are an official component of the curriculum, including required and elective courses, b) approved preceptorships, and c) approved field placements in off-campus locations. Students must be under the direction of the University, i.e., under the supervision of faculty in performing the services, and the performance of such services must be within the scope of their education/training. Students are not covered when receiving pay for services or for non-MSU activities that are not approved field placements or preceptorships.
