

DESCRIBING, PROMOTING, AND VALUING EXCELLENT SCHOLARSHIP

Thursday, March 7
12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m.
Virtual

Register at https://msu.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_9BbDH22eTf6dGx-BN0O1Eg#/registration.
Recording available to registrants.

In this webinar, six researchers from the College of Human Medicine's non-tenure appointment systems will participate in a panel discussion for our college on "research excellence." This panel, representing a range of fields and approaches, will share thinking about what makes scholarship of any kind "excellent," and what kinds of evidence help us understand if scholarship is excellent across a diverse landscape of funding and dissemination possibilities.

The panelists are:

- Joan Ilardo, Associate Professor – Fixed Term
- Karen Kelly-Blake, Associate Professor – Fixed Term
- Heather Laird-Fick, Professor – Health Programs
- Ade Olomu, Professor – Health Programs
- Julie Phillips, Professor – Health Programs
- Erica Wehrwein, Associate Professor – Fixed Term

The panelists will share information about their various roles and the role of their scholarship in their current work.

This information is important for any MSU-paid faculty member with assigned research/scholarship effort, especially those outside the tenure and research appointment systems, and for those who support or evaluate such people in working toward promotion. Community-based clinical/adjunct faculty interested in seeking promotion at MSU should also find it useful.

Sponsored by the College of Human Medicine Office of Faculty Affairs and Development.