1.0 Purpose:

Signage, postings, and literature in university buildings contribute to the open exchange of knowledge and information. Knowledge and information shared through signage, postings and other literature must be disseminated in ways that uphold the standards and the integrity of the institution; inform rather than confuse; are not excessive; promote the general welfare of students, faculty, staff and visitors; and protect the public and private investment of buildings and open spaces. This policy provides guidelines for the distribution and posting of signage and printed materials in the Secchia Center. This includes, but is not limited to the following: flyers, brochures, announcements, photos, banners, event postings, advertisements, magazines, and other materials.
