FAMILY MEDICINE – FMP 608

Recommended:

Students should choose at least one of the following text books for supplemental reading and to prepare for the written examination. We do not require a single text because each student's learning style is different. As adult learners, students should review the available resources and choose the one that suits them best. The NBME exam is not based on any specific text. Reading any of these should prepare a student well for the exam.
